

TRIBUTE TO REVIEWERS

On behalf of our editors, authors, and readers: A tribute to our reviewers and review board members

The Editorial Team for VideoGIE would like to take this opportunity to thank, on behalf of our readers and authors, the many individuals who have given their time and talents to help our journal grow and thrive. We recognize and thank the members of our Editorial Board, Editorial Advisory Board, and Editorial Review Board. Their high-quality work, time commitment, and dedication have been invaluable. Because of their critical thinking, expertise, fairness, and timeliness, VideoGIE has published a large variety of high-quality, educational video articles during the past year. We welcome their continued service in 2023, along with many more motivated members of our readership who may be willing to donate their time to the most important element of progress in clinical medicine: the peer-review process. We thank the individuals listed below, who reviewed for us during 2022.
